

Southnet Trade Australia is based in the heart of Australia's largest inland wine producing region.

The Riverina region has the highest proportion of premium varietal fruit of any of the inland Australian grape growing regions. Within a seventy kilometre radius of the Southnet office there are twenty three wineries.

As well as the full range of regional wines Southnet has a procurement network spanning five premier winegrape growing regions of southeastern Australia.

We can select wines of all styles, varieties and qualities according to market requirements. These can be blended to taste for full container lots or we can pack mixed consolidated containers of wines from a number of winemakers.

From the Southnet regional base we have direct access to wineries ranging from large high volume export focused winemakers to small boutique wineries with brands not normally represented in the mainstream markets.
